

them on discovering that they did not meet sympathy in the country, increased so much when they found themselves attacked by the troops, whose co-operation they had expected, that Lopez determined to make for the mountains, with the intention of going to Pinar del Rio; but by mistake or treachery of the guide, they went to the Frias coffee estate, where they had another encounter with the troops; that the invaders lost four or five men in this encounter, so that what with this loss, and that of the men left on the march, the force at Frias was 220 men, including about 12 or 14 wounded. From thence they went to Brigo, slept at Union and arrived at Martilorena or Condelaria on the 21st—in number about 200 men. That while they were cooking their breakfast, they were surprised, attacked and dispersed by the Queen's troops. That about a hundred men, (one-third without arms) made for the mountains; they remained in the woods four days without eating any thing else than a horse, which they had brought with them, and a little corn and wild plants.

On leaving the woods, LAINE surrendered to the authorities and received quarters. LOPEZ, according to the disposition of LAINE, had received nearly all his means from Mr. SIGUR, who paid $75,000 for the Pampero steamer; that some pistols and cannon were bought at a Government sale; that a merchant of New Orleans furnished the cartridge boxes, knapsacks and canteens, upon an order from LOPEZ; that the agents in the United States were SIGUR, CUCHINS and Company; that these were the sole movers of the expedition; LAINE added that LOPEZ could not receive money in the Island the sanction of the Committee in New York, because he did not agree with BRANCOUR and AGUERO as to the mode of forming the expedition.—Charleston Mercury.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—We yesterday had a conversation with an intelligent gentleman from South Carolina. From him we learned that the excitement there on political questions, is so great as materially to interfere with business. A large amount of capital is withheld from use, on account of the uncertainty which exists in regard to the future. Our informant thinks that a decided majority of the people in the State at large, are in favor of secession, &c.; the only question is, whether South Carolina shall venture the movement alone, or whether she shall wait for the concurrence of other States. The friends of the latter alternative are numerous, and increasing. They oppose separate secession, but advocate co-operation. That is, secession, whenever the other Southern States shall be willing to unite with South Carolina in the establishment of a Southern Confederacy. Many, it is believed, occupy this ground from policy, whose real sentiments are favorable to the continuance of the Union as it is, on the basis of the compromise. But to advocate the latter doctrine at present would ensure defeat; whereas, by taking an advanced position as co-operationists, they hope to carry a majority of their fellow-citizens with them, and so keep the separate secessionists at bay, until reflection shall begot reaction. The delegates to the Convention, which is to decide on the course to be pursued, are already elected, and a large majority of them were, when elected, in favor of immediate secession. But our informant thinks the views of a number of them have already changed, and that the longer final action can be deferred, the more hope there is, that neither South Carolina nor the nation will be disgraced. There is a chance that even the Convention will not decide in favor of separate action. If they do not decide against it, they may be induced to postpone final action, which will be equivalent to a Union triumph at last.—So mote it be.

Mr. Burt on Co-operation.—We have understood from several who were present at a dinner given at Bradley's Old Field recently, that Mr. Burt proved to the satisfaction of his hearers that all hope of co-operation in resistance to the aggressions of the past was in vain. A writer in the Abbeville Banner corroborates the statement, and says that the gentleman took up our co States' position to demonstrate the correctness of his opinion on this point.

Here then is testimony from an acknowledged leader of the co-operation party, that co-operation is out of the question at present.—The issue is narrowing down daily, and we are pleased to know that some of our co-operation friends who heard Mr. Burt left the field secessionists, and are still further gratified to learn that many of those who have heretofore honestly advocated co-operation, have given up all hope of obtaining it, and are prepared to act with us. The choice having to be made, they prefer action to submission.—Carolinian.

Austria.—Mr. Warren, late Consul General of the United States at Vienna, and editor of Lloyd's newspaper, has been expelled from the Austrian territory. The Emperor issued the order himself, to mark his displeasure at some opposition which Mr. Warren had shown to certain governmental measures.

An English fleet, under Admiral Parker, which had appeared off Tunis, created a profound sensation at Vienna, as it was thought to have some connection with Palmerston's speech on foreign affairs. The Cologne Gazette says the most important feature in this case is a conviction, which has made its way into the diplomatic circle, that England is determined to uphold the authority of the Porte whenever its integrity is assailed.—Carolinian.

An Ordinance.

TO prevent Swine and Goats from running at large within the Town of Camden.

1. Be it ordained by the Intendant and Wardens of the Town of Camden, in Town Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same, that from and after the ratification of this Ordinance, no person or persons shall permit or suffer his, her or their Swine or Goats to run at large within the limits of the town of Camden, and it shall be the duty of the Marshal, and he is hereby authorized and requested to employ persons to seize and secure every and all such Swine or Goats so running at large, to impound the same in the Public Pound, prepared for that purpose, situated on Market-street, in the town of Camden.

2. And be it further ordained, That upon impounding any of said Swine or Goats, the Marshal shall immediately advertise the same at the Court House in Camden, giving a full and corresponding description thereof, and should the owner or owners thereof appear within two days thereafter, and offer satisfactory proof of and to said property, then the Marshal is authorized and directed to deliver to him, her or them the same, upon the payment of one dollar as a fine hereby imposed upon the owner or owners of every Swine or Goat which may be found so running at large and impounded as aforesaid.

3. And be it further ordained, That should no owner appear within the time hereinbefore designated, (to-wit: two days,) or appearing, shall fail or refuse to pay the fine hereby imposed, then it shall be lawful, and it is hereby made the duty of the Marshal to expose at public sale each and every Swine or goat so taken up and impounded as aforesaid, for the satisfaction of the said fine, and whenever the sale made by virtue of this Ordinance shall produce a sum exceeding that of the said fine, the excess or surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the Town Council, to be given to the owner of the property so sold, upon the same being demanded within thirty days after such sale.

3. And be it further ordained, That all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in any wise repugnant to, or contrary to this Ordinance, the same is hereby repealed.

Ratified in Town Council assembled, this, the tenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty one. As witness the hand of the Intendant and the seal of the said town of Camden.

JAMES DUNLAP, Intendant.
